WORKING GROUP REPORT RELEASED!

Toward a Trauma- and- Violence-Informed Research Ethics Module: Considerations and Recommendations

We are excited to share this publication that was inspired and informed by the initiative, insights, and thought-provoking discussions of the Working Group of the Knowledge Hub Community of Practice (convened during 2018/19).

This document draws upon critical themes emerging from everyday research ethical dilemmas discussed by the Working Group and poses recommendations for a training protocol for trauma- and violence-informed research ethics.

We would also like to share that a non-profit gender-based violence organization based in Portugal is about to begin training in trauma-and violence-informed responses within the GBV sector. The organization has expressed interest in translating the report to Portuguese and disseminating it as part of the training. Working group members were notified of this international recognition and the document will be translated to Portuguese!

RESEARCH BRIEFINGS: TRAUMA AND VIOLENCE-INFORMED APPROACHES

The Knowledge Hub is pleased to announce its new Research Briefings Series! This series features PHAC's funded projects with a focus on research findings and its implications for policy, practice and research.

We are collaborating with a media company to host high quality live and interactive 20-minute presentations by community of practice members. Simultaneous French interpretation is available during the live presentations. The media company is also producing polished recordings of the presentations that will be used by CoP members and the Knowledge Hub to reach a wider audience.

The Knowledge Hub team is reaching out to projects to explore their interest, but we are hosting the online presentations based on projects' end dates with priority given to projects that have already wrapped up their research and activities. We started the series with three presentations:

- ▶ The Flourish Project: Collaborative Approaches for Supporting Survivors of FGM/C,
- ▶ TransFormed: Addressing Intimate Partner Violence from Two-Spirit, Nonbinary, and Trans Perspectives
- ▶ Safe and Understood: Intervening with families to promote healthy child outcomes and prevent abuse recurrence for young child victims of domestic violence exposure.

The presentations generated great interest and received a high number of registrants (500-800) and participants (200 -380).

In case you missed out, we are excited to share the recordings of the first two presentations:

THE FLOURISH PROJECT: COLLABORATIVE APPROACHES FOR SUPPORTING SURVIVORS

Presented by: Wangari Tharao, Director of Research and Muna Aden, Program and Research Manager, Women's Health in Women's Hands

This presentation provided an overview of the development, delivery, and outcomes of the Flourish intervention for survivors of FGM/C in Toronto, Ontario. The Flourish project aimed to address the support needs of FGM/C survivors within the context of socio-economic and intersectional realities using a community-based participatory lens.

TRANSFORMED: ADDRESSING INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE FROM TWO-SPIRIT, NONBINARY, AND TRANS PERSPECTIVES

Presented by: Laura Hartley, Program Director and Maiesha Zarin, Project Coordinator, METRAC

The TransFormed Project is a bilingual, community-based research project led by METRAC: Action on Violence in partnership with the Centre de Francophone with the goal of addressing barriers within and increasing access to health care and social services for Two-Spirit, nonbinary and trans survivors of intimate partner violence (IPV). This presentation introduced the project's methodology, key research findings, and implications for the provision of support services to Two-Spirit, nonbinary and trans survivors of IPV.

UPCOMING RESEARCH BRIEFINGS

Using Yoga in Your Work with Women, Children, Youth and Yourself!
